About us

Making kids happy in more than 40 countries in the world.

What first began in the 1980's as a publishing house, whose main focus was travel books, Globe Publishing has now grown to be an international publishing house that takes pride in developing interactive and educational non-fiction books for children aged 0-7 years old.

Over the last two decades, we have seen major changes in the publishing world. And with these changes we have developed, and we have impacted the publishing landscape. Each year we introduce new products to our portfolio, expand out innovative packaging, try different business models, all while promoting disruptive ideas.

Our values

We want our products to have the highest possible educational value. We invest in our products by making them exciting, stimulating and most of all fun for the children.

Through rigorous testing, we make sure that our products can be held to the highest possible standards of safety and quality.

We want our products to inspire a strong dialogue between the child and the adult. It is important to us that the child, after engaging with one of our products, learns something new, and that the adult can rest assured that their child grows and develops.

Our concepts

GLOBE·LearningCircle™

There is nothing more important in the development process of a child than being allowed to play, and at Globe we regard a playing child as a young scientist at work. To support this, we have developed a concept – the GLOBE·LearningCircle™ – upon which all of our products are based. Some include all the skills while others focus on one specific skill.

At Globe Publishing we have a unique way of developing our products. At the core of the process is the GLOBE·LearningCircle™, which keeps the child's progress, curiosity, and complete learning needs in mind.

It consists of eight different skills, that all facilitate optimal learning for the child.

Children never "just" play. By interacting with others and by playing alone, children expand their understanding of themselves and the world around them. And no matter if they are doing a puzzle, building a tower of blocks, playing a board game, reading a book or making a drawing they are constantly evolving important skills like their fine motor skills, social skills, artistic skills, language skills, mathematical skills etc.

Children simply can't stop learning while they play – they explore, experiment, analyze, make new experiences and master disciplines all the time.

PERSONAL SKILLS
The ability to understand oneself, one's own world and limits: Who am I. Include feelings, capabilities, ideas and actions.

PHYSICAL SKILLS
The ability to use one's body for all types of activities, to express one's ideas and feelings and acquire body awareness.

SOCIAL SKILLS
The ability to understand others, read their mood, feelings and body language and learn to be part of social groups.

ARTISTIC SKILLS
The ability to understand and play with colors and shapes. The child's inherent creativity is in focus here.

MUSICAL SKILLS
The ability to distinguish between rhythm, notes and tunes and express them.

MATHEMATICAL SkILLS
The ability to understand the concept of numbers, geometry and the language of mathematics.

LINGUISTIC SKILLS
The ability to think while speaking, use (new) words and develop one's linguistic capacity through rhymes and small stories and through communication with one's immediate surroundings.

SCIENTIFIC SKILLS
The ability to wonder at nature, have a realistic perception of it, know where things come from and how people form part of nature's cycle and their impact on it.

CREATING MEANINGFUL PLAY

GLOBE·MeaningfulPlay™ lets the children learn and gain knowledge by engaging them in play that is both active and interactive instead of having them memorize information. This gives the child multiple ways to engage and find out what best suits their individual way of learning. Along with our Learning Circle, this approach to childhood development ensures that children are stimulated and involved while learning. All our products have Meaningful Play as its core.

Focus Books

Focus books are a great start for coming readers! Research shows that newborns prefer to look at high contrast pictures and that early visual stimulation encourages their overall development and helps them increase their attention span.

The focus books will fascinate, stimulate and delight newborns, while they start making those important connections in the brain.

My Little Book of Happy Animals

A leporello book with a mix of animals and simple patterns.

Research shows that newborns prefer to look at high contrast pictures.

Bath Books

Donny the Dino teaches you about how to count.

Hello Duckie teaches you about the animals on the farm.

Wilma Wonders teaches you about opposites.

It's Wild teaches you about the colours.

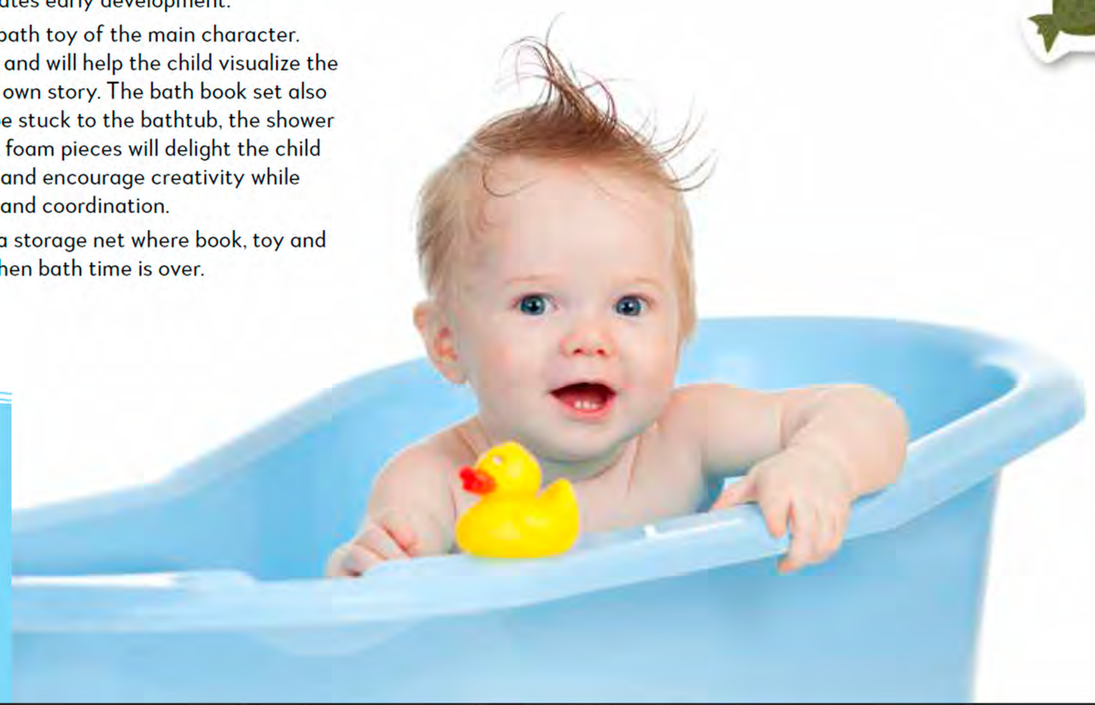
Let's make bath time a splashing fun time!

Bath Books from Globe are great companions for the child while they are in the bath. The daily ritual becomes more fun and less stressful when the child can play and learn while they bathe.

Each title focuses on a specific skill that helps the child develop. The books are filled with beautiful illustrations and easily recognizable scenarios for the child that stimulates early development.

Each bath book set comes with a bath toy of the main character. The bath toy encourages roleplay and will help the child visualize the story, retell it or even create their own story. The bath book set also contains 6 foam pieces that can be stuck to the bathtub, the shower wall or the pages of the book. The foam pieces will delight the child when put into the bath with them and encourage creativity while stimulating motor skills and eye-hand coordination.

The bath book set is packaged in a storage net where book, toy and foam pieces can be hung to dry when bath time is over.



FACTS

Little Learners

Each of the eight books in this series focuses on an important ability – personal, social, musical, linguistic, physical, artistic, mathematical and scientific – as they appear in our Learning Circle.

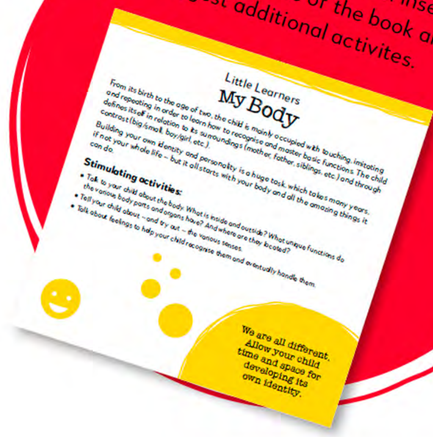
Common to all the books is their purpose of helping the child name recognizable things and situations from its daily life, thus supporting the child's early development of language and conceptual understanding. The books are characterised by their simple presentation and real pictures as pedagogical research shows that very young children understand these the best.

Inside pages

The pages are simple and clear in the colours.

Inserts

All books include a special insert explaining the use of the book and suggest additional activites.



Parent Guide

An inspirational guide for parents explaining Little Learne's ideas and suggesting additional activities to support the child's development.

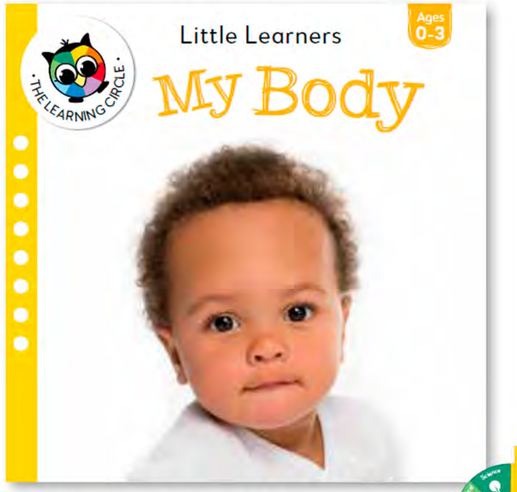
Marketing material

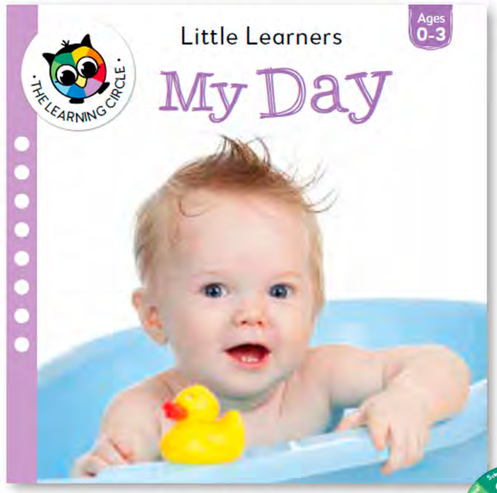
We offer different marketing materiale to the shops and the customers



This book teaches the small child about its body and senses. Children use their bodies to explore and learn, which makes a fundamental knowledge of the body an important first step in life.

This book teaches the small child about relationships, using pictures of animal mothers and their babies. The mother-baby situations are easy for a child to relate to, as children are closely connected with their mothers during their first years of life.

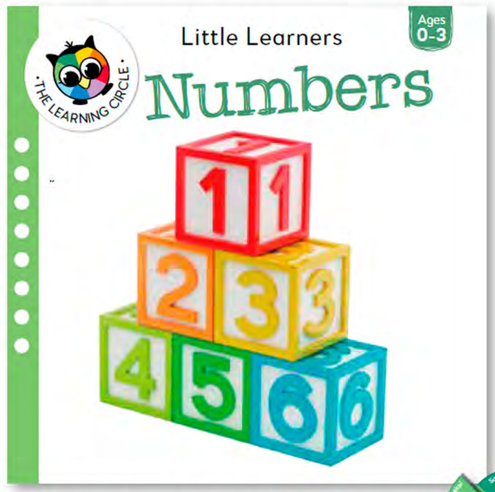
This book teaches the small child about sounds. Sounds are used to create music which not only brings joy to a child, but also stimulates and strengthens their physical, social and linguistic skills.



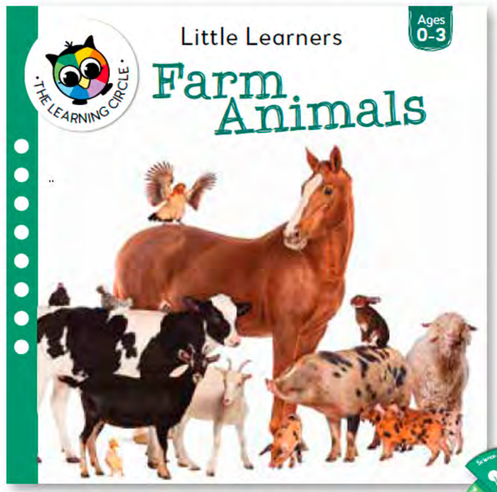
This book teaches the small child important words from everyday life, improving the child's vocabulary. Showing daily routines makes "My Day" relevant and relatable for the child, and it is an excellent starting point for talks about all that happens in a small child's day.

This book teaches the small child about all the amazing things the body can do. Children get to know their bodies by using them, making daily exercise vital for developing strong physical and motor skills.

This book teaches the small child about colours. Recognizing colours is not only important for the child's artistic skills, but also because we use colours all the time to explain and describe the world.



This book teaches the small child about the numbers from 1-10. Becoming familiar with these numbers will activate the child's understanding of small amounts and help its numeracy later in life.



This book teaches the small child about farm animals. Children have a natural interest in all things living and will love to learn where things come from.

Learning trains

With the Learning Trains, we have aspired to create a fun and interactive way of learning important things for the young child from numbers and letters to feelings and wild animals. The book and the long puzzle provide two different leaning methods which makes it dynamic and encourages a strong dialogue between parent and child.

Each box focuses on a specific skill from the Learning Circle and the product line will be expanded to include boxes covering all eight skills.

My Little Village

Our best-selling series, My Little Village, is sold in over 1,5 million copies in more than 40 countries. All the different kits fit together to enhance the learning experience and let the child experiment and tell their own stories.

The concept of the series is to provide a meaningful playing and learning experience for the child age 3-5 years old that will only grow as they expand their village and gain more knowledge.

Furthermore, the child can grow up with the product. To begin with, an adult can read the book aloud and explain the photos and content. Later on, young readers can look through the pages themselves and begin to understand the writing. Lastly, the many elements in the sets will encourage role-play and develop several of the child's skills like its fine motor skills, linguistic skills and social skills.

Two ways of learning

1

The book is full of photographs for young learners to understand how things look in real life.

2

The puzzle, wooden figures and cardboard elements are all illustrated to stimulate the child's imagination.

Be kind to the environment! Nearly all of the packaging can be reused to enhance the play experience.

All of the roads from the different puzzles fit together so you can create a whole village by collecting more than one box.

Book and box are used as a building.

The wooden figures are thick to provide the best play experience for the young child and to develop motoric skills.

Fun cardboard characters create more opportunities for role play and dialogue.

All the boxes can be used as buildings.

FACTS

Sidsel Brix

Sidsel Brix is a Danish illustrator, educated at the design school in Kolding in 2005. "When I became an illustrator, it was with the wish of drawing for children and with children. I love moving in the universe of the child, where everything is so straightforward and yet so complex.

It is with my greatest pleasure that I have been allowed to express my inner images and thoughts about the fairy tales that I love so dearly. I hope you will enjoy moving in this universe as much I have done."

Tell Me More

Our non-fiction series for curious 3 to 5 year olds everywhere! The Tell Me More series explores themes familiar to children such as zoo animals, the farm, food, music and sounds, cars and air travel. We want to encourage a strong connection between reader and listener. The books are full of questions to encourage further dialogue and activities. The photographic treatment of the subject brings the experience closer to the child.
